

Journal of Latin American Geography

Current editor(s) and email address for queries: Christopher Gaffney, christopher.gaffney@geo.uzh.ch, jlagn@clagscholar.org

Website: utpress.utexas.edu/index.php/journals/journal-of-latin-american-geography

Publisher: University of Texas Press

Is the journal open access? No

Where is the journal indexed?

Frequency of publication: 3 issues per year

Articles published per year: 24-28

Minimum and maximum length of articles: Minimum 6,000, Maximum 8,000

Languages of submission: English, Spanish, Portuguese

Translation policy: JLAG publishes original scholarship in the above languages. All articles must have abstracts in English and wither Spanish or Portuguese. JLAG does not translate articles.

Peer review process: Double-blind review

Approximate acceptance rate: 50%

Disciplines covered: Cultural, Historical, and Physical Geography, cartography

Quantitative-qualitative balance: 20-80

Editorial philosophy: The Journal of Latin American Geography (JLAG) will publish original geographical and interdisciplinary research on Latin America and the Caribbean. The Journal is published by the Conference of Latin Americanist Geographers (CLAG), established in 1970 to foster geographic education and research on Latin America through conferences and publications. The editors work with an international editorial board to promote the publication of original, high quality, and anonymously refereed manuscripts that represent the broad spectrum of geographic perspectives on and from the region.

Use of photographs or graphics: JLAG prefers articles with photographs, maps, and graphics.

Are proposals for special guest-edited thematic issues considered? Yes

Other special features of the journal:

Social media presence: Limited but growing

Planned future developments: Themed sections as well as publishing of opinion section called JLAG Perspectives in electronic format before print.