I co-founded the Summer Institute for Future Legislators at UBC, a boot camp for aspiring politicians. The Institute provides intensive hands-on mentoring and training for anyone who seeks the practical experience and knowledge to be able to make a difference—whether at the local, provincial, or federal level. Former elected representatives from across the political spectrum share their expertise with participants. Veteran political journalists advise participants on media and communications. Academic experts provide instruction and resources. <https://democracy.arts.ubc.ca/summer-institute/>

I worked with the Summit Secretariat of the Organization of American States to run the first Model Summit of the Americas, which brought together over 40 students from universities across the Western Hemisphere over three days (June 1-3, 2022) to simulate the IX Summit of the Americas (held in Los Angeles, June 6-10, 2022). I provided coaching for a delegation of 2 UBC students who represented Haiti in a working group on clean energy transitions.
