

Off the Beaten Track

The world's longest standing field school for Cultural Anthropology and Humanities

SCHOLARSHIP CALL

www.anthropologyfieldschool.org

This call is aimed at budding researchers with creative and open minds interested in the challenges of applied research. We offer a unique learning opportunity in a multidisciplinary research project on the isle of Gozo, Malta. Expeditions and the University of Leuven offer two full scholarships for the 2021 Off the Beaten Track Malta Summer Program. Scholarships are granted on a competitive basis and based on a research proposal.

Call directed at

- Undergraduate and graduate students
- PhD students and candidates
- Everyone with a genuine interest in cultural anthropology
- Previous participants of the project

Selection is not based on previous academic merit or project complexity. We aim for enthusiasm, dedication and creativity. In past years, students who were not enrolled in an anthropology program also received scholarships for the program.

Selection Procedure

In the first phase, candidates are invited to propose two or more creative research concepts that can be built upon through fieldwork performed during one session of the summer school on Gozo (Malta). For the second phase, the scholarship review board will select 15 candidates from these submissions to work out a more detailed research plan within a deadline of two months. These final proposals will be ranked and scholarships will be divided according to this ranking. The two top ranked proposals will be granted a full scholarship, while others might receive a partial scholarship.

How can I apply?

- Send us two or more research concepts
- 150-250 words per research concept
- Submitting can only be done through the website
- The deadline for submissions (first stage) is January 5th, 2021

Location

Gozo, Malta, Europe

Sessions

June 5 to June 24

July 2 to July 21

July 29 to August 17
